SERVICE TOO EXPENSIVE

MAY RETURN TO THE SYSTEM THREE YEARS AGO.

Railway Age's Statement of New Roads Built During 1898 Up-todate-Utah Not Included In the Footings-Total For 35 States and Territories 1,181 Miles.

(Special to The Herald.) Boise, Ida., July 3.—E. E. Calvin, of Salt Lake, general superintendent of the Oregon Short Line, was here today. He said it was possible the train service on the Wood River branch, from Hailey to Ketchum, would be reduced to two or three trains a week, as was the case a few years ago. During the past 11 months, he says, the road has lost $20,00 in the operation of that branch.

RAILWAY BUILDING.

Statement of the Miles Built During the Year.

current number of the Railway Age has the following statement: In our issue of April 1 last, when estimating the prospects for new rallway construction in the United States this construction in the United States this year, we said: "It will not be surprising if thetoral new milesge of the year should exceed 3,000 miles, and it is improbable that it will be less than 1250 miles." That estimate, at the end of March, was, of course, made before the season of construction had fairly begun. It was based entirely on our records and on our knowledge of the various projects which were at that time more or less before the public. Of these projects we enumerated at that time, plans for 3% different lines, with an ostensible mileage of over 10,000 miles. Guided by our acquaintance with the merits or demerits of each individual project. It was necessary to separate ne merits or demerits of each individual roject. It was necessary to separate in sheep from the goats and make our wn conjecture as to what would be built in what not. It is some testimony to be completeness of our records that now, hen the year is half gone and when iree months of active construction have assed, it is impossible to make our prection more accurate than it was in larch last.

The actual amount of new track laid in March last.

The actual amount of new track laid in 1995 up to this writing is 1,181.60 miles. This is more than has been laid in the first six months of any year since 1882. The figures to June 19 for each of the first six months of any year since 1802. The figures to June 30 for each of the six years are us follows:

To June 30, 1803, 1,014 miles; 1894, 525 miles; 1895, 641 miles; 1895, 788 miles; 1895, 788 miles; 1895, 622 miles; 1895, 1815 miles.

The track laid, therefore, this year, has been more than double that laid in the same period of 1894, and nearly double that of the first six months of either 1895 or 1897. In 1802—the last year of prosperity before the panio—the construction up to June 30 was 1,227 miles. The new building up to date this year, therefore, is within 230 miles of that of 1892.

The total construction of the last eight up to date this year, therefore, is within 200 miles of that of 1892.

The total construction of the last eight years, from 1883, showing very clearly the increasing pressure of the hard times and the subsequent recovery, has been as follows: 1896, 1878 miles; 1891, 4.28 miles; 1892, 4.18 miles; 1893, 2.85 miles; 1894, 1.948 miles; 1896, 1.748 miles; 1895, 1.848 roiles; 1996, 1.848 miles.

Te construction in the last half of each year is, of course, greater than in the first half. In only one year in the last ten has the construction up to June 20 exceeded 35 per cent of the total new track laid during the year. On the doctrine of averages, therefore, it is probable that with 1181 miles stready laid, there will be over 5,000 miles of new line added in 1998. But it is not necessary to have recourse to an argument based on averages, for the books of the Railway Age show that work is now actually in progress on lines enough to bring the total up to slightly graphical distribution of the or mass sound of the same line. The fol-lowing table gives the figures of the track sid, and the number of separate lines on which if has been sid, in each of the 35 tates and territories in which work has

Fourth of July.

Washington, July 3.—The senate will be in session on the 4th of July, an unusual sitting, but deemed necessary by the friends of the Hawalian annexation resolution. It is probable that the week will be consumed in the discussion ofthe resolution, unless a vote is reached near the middle of the week, which some of the senators have hoped for.

The house will not be in session until Tuesday. There is no definite programme determined upon for the week. The conference report upon the deficiency bill will be considered Tuesday and it may provoke considerable debate.

The naval affairs committee has a number of bills which it desires to bring up, and a day may be given to it. ### History That Is Interesting In View of the Present War With Spain.

Chicago Record: Napoleon never felt more confident of victory that he did on the morning of his mar and greatest defeat. He had united with Ney after defeat. He had united with Ney after Ouarte Bras and had come up against Wellington's chosen ground on the evening of the 17th, and his only fear was that his enemy would slip away from him under cover of durkness. Several times he got up in the night to satisfy himself that the English were still in front of him, and when he saw their bivouac lights still there he retired again, catheled, in the morning-June 18—when he beheld them spread out in battle order before him, he could be considered Tossay and it may provoke considerable debate.

Was ever more stubbornly contested than that of Waterloo. The lesses of the English and Prussians was terrible, while that of the French, though never reckoned up, was even greater. Until the inst the English acted wholly on the defensive. Wellington was everywhere. As one part of his line grew wenk with loss of Hfe he strengthened it with the reserves that he kept hidden on the slope behind him; or, failing in that, rode personally to the place of weakness and encouraged his men to hold their places to the bitter end, regardless of everything. As he afterward said, he had but little plan when once the battle had begun. To use his own phrase: "As the French pounded us we pounded back again, and it was simply a question who could bureau.
